1. Claims 1-27 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

There is no teaching or suggestion in the prior art to:

“ counting the internal clock and the inverted internal clock with delay times different from each other, to output an output control signal” as claimed in the independent claim 1; or

“ subsequently counting, after counting the first delayed inverted internal clock among the plurality of the delayed inverted internal clocks by using the signal outputted at the step (b), the other delayed inverted internal clocks among the plurality of the delayed inverted internal clocks than the first delayed inverted internal clock” as claimed in the independent claim 20; or

“ subsequently counting, after counting the first delayed inverted internal clock among the plurality of the delayed inverted internal clocks by using the read command internal signal, the other delayed inverted internal clocks among the plurality of the delayed inverted internal clocks than the first delayed inverted internal clock” as claimed in the independent claim 24.

2. The following prior art, which is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure although not relied upon, includes:

Sato et al. (US Pat. No. 5,892,730) or Baker et al. (US Pat. No. 5,953,284) disclose the timing of a clock signal used to a memory device similar to that of the present application, but fail to disclose as described above.
